

WORLD ASSOCIATION OF MASTER CHEFS

INTERNATIONAL JUDGE COURSE

Why become a WAMC Judge?

The World Association of Master Chefs or (WAMC) as it is commonly known is a prestigious association with its roots going back over 70 years.

To be awarded the title of a WAMC International Judge is a great honour and one not given out to just anyone. It is a title that is earned and bestowed once a Chef has shown their abilities and capacity towards others of the industry.

As an International Judge you will be respected in the industry and have opportunities to represent WAMC at competitions and events globally. You will receive special recognition for the work you do and the way in which you support the youth of the industry as they learn and grow from your experience.

There are two pathways to become an international judge and they are straight forward and require a commitment and dedication.

1. Your Experience and qualifications are such as evidence of capacity
2. You complete the WAMC International Judge Course.

Course Outline

The course is designed to allow Chefs to work towards the title of WAMC International Judge. The course is split into four levels.

Level 1 – Introduction:

- Understanding the Contestant
 - Safety & Risk Awareness
- Assessment: Online (Question & Answers)

Level 2 – Local Judge Certification:

- Working with other Judges & Assessors
